Teak is a hardwood and whilst liquid will not penetrate, it will show on the surface. To avoid stains, immediately wipe the whole surface of the furniture equally (not just the spill area) with a damp cloth. If water stains or other liquids soil any item, a light dusting with 'fine' grade sandpaper will take out most marks. When sanding always work along the grain.

We would recommend the use of table mats and coasters. We recommend avoiding placing reclaimed teak furniture in rooms that may experience extreme temperature or humidity changes, as this may cause excessive timber movements and cracking. Do not place your furniture near heat sources, radiators or air conditioning units and protect it from prolonged sunlight.

When cleaning only use a soft damp cloth and dry thoroughly. The tables will not need to be regularly re-waxed however, should you wish to do so you should use a natural beeswax, following the manufacturer's instructions. Before applying the wax the table should be thoroughly clean.
